Training with Jackie based on donations

Jackie realizes that not all organizations can pay the above rates. Not to worry, because everyone should have the opportunity to train mental strength through kindness. That is why Jackie, together with her business partners Ay Mey Lie and Ed Wrede, have set up an online platform called 'Friendly Eyes'. The e-learning programs are available for everyone and are based on donations. All three have experienced a transformation in their lives by training 'friendly eyes' daily. They hope that the courses can do the same for others. Go to www.friendlyeyes.com
